

Building Stone Institute Tucker Award

"The Building Stone Institute entrusted Picture This on Granite to develop a stone award element that would adequately complement the prestige of our Tucker Architectural Design award program. The Picture This On Granite team patiently and willingly entertained all of our design requests and numerous edit evolutions that resulted in the ideal award product. Our black granite pyramid awards artfully depict a tasteful photographic image of each award winning project and clearly promote the winning design firm along with the BSI Tucker logo. BSI was equally impressed with the way our delicate awards were packaged for individual transport as well as for bulk shipment to our event location. All arrived in perfect condition. Picture This On Granite has earned BSI's repeat Tucker Design Award pyramid business and will also be our first call for service recognition awards next year."
